

James is a frequent user of SpaceFeed, a website for anyone interested in Rocket launches and related technologies

This day James recieved a notification from SpaceFeed, about a livestream soon to begin

LiveFeed

James is wondering what date the next rocket is going to launch

With just a click on the navigation James arrives to the launch schedules

A list of all the rockets and when they are scheduled to take off